Boxing Chat

By Dale Gardner

There will be a boxing bout held at the Golden Nugget arena, Paikoe, on next Monday night, Feb. 10th. The arena is under new management and good clean bouts are promised.

Tom Terry, who has established himself with Florida boxing fans is to slug it out with "Kid" Stockwell, the 195 pound Dredge hand from Moore Haven. Stockwell has yet to be defeated according to his record. He knocked out "Big Boy" Pititz, who holds a knock-out over "Rock" King Kong" George. George made a decision over Terry. Tom stopped all of his opponents except the big Greek. There will be plenty of excitement while it lasts.

its so you may come Monday night expecting to see one of the boys planted right on the canvas, but you will also see a FIGHT. Jackwell is a terrific puncher and will be a case of who lands first. We don't look for the bout to go more than six rounds, if that far, there should be plenty of fireworks when they start pitching at each other.

Young Spooner, Pahokee, will play Roy Page, the rough and ready "pepperbuster" from Moore Haven. The game turned in a corking fight at the Palm Beach a couple of weeks ago and figures to give Spooner a merry evening, at least busy one, when they tangle up six rounds or less on the Stock-Terry card.

bouts are to start at eight. The seats are being placed in the stadium to be used as the ringside seats and sections of bleacher seats are to be set aside for colored fans. This is the first of a series of fights to be staged at the local arena and a large crowd is expected to come early as there are no reserved seats.
